COLEMAN
MIDDLE SCHOOL

Coleman Middle School

Financial literacy is improving at Coleman Middle School. Scholars learned about budgeting and saving through real-life scenarios. They faced the challenge of deciding whether to save for a special event or spend their money now, weighing the pros and cons of each choice. The students were engaged and enthusiastic in their discussions.

Leland School Park

During Charades, Leland scholars had to guess what onomatopoeia was being reenacted.

Using positive affirmation coloring sheets cut into four parts, scholars learned about staying positive despite the decisions President Trump is making that will directly impact our daily lives.

O'Bannon Middle School

O'Bannon scholars collaborated with Mr. Booker to analyze mock resumes and interviews, using context clues and implicit and explicit language to identify the best candidate for the position they were hiring for.

In personal finance class, students explored various apps designed to help them enter the world of investing.

T.L. Weston Middle School

Weston scholars learned about the history of Hip-Hop. During this lesson, they reinforced skills like vocabulary, inferencing, and reading comprehension.

Scholars also spent time with Mr. Rodney, working to ensure they are ready to win at our drone competition.
